Robotics Business Review Announces the 2018 RBR50 List

Robotics Business Review (RBR) announces the 2018 RBR50 list and maxon precision motors once again is proud to be recognized as one of the most noteworthy companies in the global robotics industry for 2018.

For 2018, the RBR50 is broken into categories to represent the hottest areas of automation: artificial intelligence, autonomous vehicles, components, manufacturing, and supply chain.

This year brought many competitive submissions, and evaluating nominees was a challenge according to the editors at RBR. "Selecting the companies for the RBR50 is always a difficult task," said Keith Shaw, editor at Robotics Business Review. "With more companies than ever entering the robotics and AI space, choosing the top 50 companies was especially challenging this year. We're confident that the selections reflect the best of the best in this exciting and growing market."
